BETTY COMPTON IN HER FIRST STARRING PRODUCTION COMING TO THE MARION

Beautiful Actress Who Played the Role of "The Girl" in "The Miracle Man," Comes to The Marion in "Prisoners of Love," One of the Year's Big Pictures.

Betty Compton, whose meteoric rise to stardom was the result of her remarkable portrayal of the role of the girl in the George Loane Tucker production of "The Miracle Man," which was shown at the Marion theater on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The picture was personally produced by Miss Compton, who is now at the head of her own company, and was directed by Arthur Rosson.

The story is taken from one of the works of Catherine Henry, and contains innumerable tense dramatic situations which give Miss Compton the fullest opportunity to display her remarkable versatility. The action carries her through the complete range of human emotions, and her first production stamps her as one of the really great actresses of the screen.

As Blanche Davis, Miss Compton portrays the role of a girl born of wealthy and cultured parents, and cursed through inheritance with a dangerous degree of physical attractiveness. Discovering her father buying the silence of an adventurer who has become part of his life, Blanche leaves home and disdains the use of her father's great name. She flees to San Francisco, where she obtains employment in the law office of Martin Blair and James Randolph. The latter seeks to marry her, but his mother, an invalid, is so ill that she will not take her son from her until after her death. Death's swift intervention fails to solve the riddle of "Prisoners of Love," and the best work of many present dramatic scenes, childish compared with the magnificent gesture with which the picture ends. In "Prisoners of Love," Betty Compton has an all star cast, including Ray Stewart, Ralph Lewis, Emory Johnson, Clara Horton and Claire McDowell.—Adv.

GRAND JURY WILL NOT CONVENE TILL MAY 16

Prosecutor Decides Not to Call It Monday.

DELAYING FERRY CASE THUS WILL SAVE COIN

Wesley M. E. Church Makes a Court Application to Borrow $15,000

Announcement was made this morning that the grand jury will not be called Monday for the consideration of the case of Harry Ferry, former county treasurer now out on bond for arraignment. It was announced by Prosecuting Attorney Fred W. Warner that the jury might be called next Monday to consider the Ferry case and a number of transfer cases that have come up since the jury met at the beginning of the January term of the common pleas court.

Mr. Warner stated this morning that as the opening of the May term of court is only three weeks away, and the grand jury will convene Monday, May 16, it was decided that it would be a useless expenditure of public funds to call the jury in session at a time so close to that date.

The Ferry case will be presented to the grand jury when it meets May 16, Mr. Warner said.

Father's Death Separates Them.
The answer and cross-petition of the defendant was filed in the common pleas court Thursday afternoon in the divorce suit of Lilab Ely Wildeman against Ernest G. Wildeman. The pleading was filed through Attorney J. H. Eymon.

The defendant asks dismissal of the plaintiff's petition for divorce, custody of the minor child and that the plaintiff be enjoined from destroying or disposing of any of his property. He enters a general denial of the allegations of the petition, charges the plaintiff informed him she had killed him, that she threatened to kill him and that when his father died and left his property to his widow, instead of the defendant, the plaintiff separated from him.

Would Build New Church.
A petition to sell part of an acre of ground on Blaine avenue and to borrow not to exceed $15,000 on another property with which to build a new church on a site already purchased, was filed in the common pleas court today by the trustees of the Wesley M. E. church. The petition was filed through H. E. Hill. The pleading states that the present church is not advantageous and satisfactory to the membership of the church and the trustees recently authorized the borrowing of $15,000 or less for a new church building, by executing notes and mortgages on the present property. William Daymude, William Pace, George Leshey, Christopher Clay, John Cheney, Ralph Good, John Cudd, Ray Smallwood and George Sprague are named as the trustees.

Suit to Foreclose.
Suit to foreclose a mortgage was filed in the common pleas court this afternoon by the Citizens' Building, Savings & Loan company, through J. W. Jacoby, against Etta Hoppes, Sam Self, Emma Self, John E. Gambrell and Stewart G. Glavener.

The petition states that Etta Hoppes, May 1, 1917, executed a note to the plaintiff for $600, secured by a mortgage on part of a lot in John H. Dwyer's fourth addition to Marion. The petition also states John E. Gambrell, Emma Self, Sam Self and Stewart G. Glavener assumed and agreed to pay the obligation. The plaintiff states $592.67 are still due, asks judgment in that amount, that the mortgage be foreclosed and the plaintiff be first paid from the proceeds and that Sam Self and Emma Self be required to set up their interest in the property.

Decree of Foreclosure.
A decree of foreclosure was entered in the common pleas court today in the foreclosure suit of the Citizens' Building, Savings & Loan company against Della Daly and others.

Receiver's Final Report.
Louis Uhl, as receiver of the partnership assets of Gillespie & Morrison today filed in the common pleas court his final report, asking that it be approved and his bond exonerated.

The bond gives the total receipts as $1,886.21 and expenditures, including a five per cent dividend to creditors as ordered by the court, as $1,841.71. Local costs are listed as $224.95 and the balance $119.55, was distributed among fourteen named creditors.

Enlistments for Navy.
Arrangement has been made that the navy is now open for first enlistments and for two-year enlistments for former navy men. Enlistments in the navy closed early in a winter and at that time the Marion recruiting office was discontinued. The office for this district is located in the postoffice building in Columbus.

R. C. Randall secured the only building permit issued Thursday, this being for a garage on east Chestnut street at an estimated cost of $227.

DIPLOMATIC PAPERS REPORTED STOLEN

Packages of Belgian Correspondence Being Sought.

Baltimore, April 22.—No clues have been obtained here, early today, to the whereabouts of three packages of Belgian diplomatic correspondence reported to have been stolen from the steamship, Norfolk, of the Royal Belgian line, which arrived at this port Wednesday, and departed yesterday. What facts have been developed indicate the papers may have been stolen from the vessel before its departure from Antwerp.

The papers were addressed to the Belgian ambassador at Washington and may have contained communications of highly important nature from the Belgian government to the American state department to be delivered through the Belgian embassy in this country.

Search for Girl.
Hastings, N. Y., April 22.—Police of three states today were asked to search for Miss Ruby Mahan, pretty seventeen-year-old high school girl, who disappeared last Sunday, from her home. Her father, John Mahan, wealthy farmer, told police he believed the girl had been kidnapped. She was last seen walking home from church, last Sunday.

Sweet To Make Up.
Detroit, April 22.—Miss Alice Boyce was very impulsive and liked to quarrel, "because it was so sweet to make up," her husband said today, on the stand in Judge Marchant's court. He is suing Dr. Edward K. Corbett for $220,000 for alienating her affections.

Wants To Make Sure That Marriage Is Legal.

Beaver, Pennsylvania, April 22.—Rube Marquard, eccentric baseball pitcher, with his pretty bride, formerly Miss Naomi Midmont, of Baltimore, was on a cross-country hunt today for a marriage license. When Beaver authorities refused to issue the license for his "make-sure" wedding, the "Rube" sped away to try other nearby towns.

The legality of the first ceremony has been questioned.

A man may make his first baby just to see it laugh, but he never disturbs the peaceful slumbers of the second one.

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Mrs. George E. Smith, Director of Press

Superlative Efficiency

"Superlative efficiency" was the dominating note in every department of the program at the Middle East district conference at New Philadelphia April 12-13. The event is sure to be always a pleasant memory to those attending to the wealth of program material, gracious hospitality of New Philadelphia club women and the added charm of Tuscarawas county valleys and hills.

A conspicuous figure in the convention was Mrs. Nollie Stockwell, eighty years old, president of one of the federated clubs of New Philadelphia.

Mrs. John M. Henderson, Martins Ferry, presided at all sessions. Mrs. G. W. Hixon, Cambridge, vice president of the district, was unable to attend on account of the serious illness of her husband.

Mrs. William H. Sharp, Columbus, president of the Ohio federation, in her annual district message, incidentally announced the resignation of Miss Allen A. Tyler, Cleveland, head of the library extension committee. She is president of the American Library association and librarian of Western Reserve university and found the combined duties of all too heavy for her. Miss Alice Boardman, assistant librarian of the Ohio state library, was appointed to fill the vacancy. Club women desiring material can receive aid by communicating with Miss Boardman, state library, Columbus.

The music of the convention was a special feature that excited much favorable comment. Community singing and a musical marked the program. However, the program builders had so mixed the many good things that none stood out more boldly than the others save perhaps the work of the various district clubs. Helpful ideas were brought to the convention floor by representatives from every department of the state federation.

A fine banquet was given by the New Philadelphia club women in honor of Mrs. Sharp and guests. Denison and Uhrichville, the twin cities, and Barnesville asked for next year's meeting. The place of meeting is to be determined later.

Southwest District Conference.
The call has been issued for the Southwest district conference to be held in Dayton May 6-7. All sessions are to be held at the First Lutheran church, corner of First and William streets.

The convention will be opened at 1:30 p. m. May 5 with supper at 5:30 o'clock. A musical in honor of the state president, other officers and guests will follow in the evening. The Saturday session will open at 9 a. m. with noon-day luncheon at the Dayton Women's club, supper and luncheon will be by reservation only. Delegates and visitors are to be entertained in the homes of Dayton club women. Reservations will be made through Mrs. J. L. Gibson, roomer, No. 1214 North Main street Dayton. Mr. George Arthur Dayton is vice president of the South-west district.

Keeping in Touch.
A series of lectures embracing current topics proved to be one of the most interesting phases of the convention. The lectures were given by Mrs. George Barber, Cornsopolis club member, whose subjects will furnish splendid thoughts for next year's work for many clubs throughout the state. Mrs. Barber's topics included "Ohio Politics and Policies," with particular reference to taxation, "The Incoming Administration," now the present administration, "The Tariff and World Trade" and "Present-Day Economic and Social Problems." Along with these lectures, an impromptu discussion of great open were enjoyed. Mrs. Barber will be glad to give any information she can to other club women.

ONCE UPON A TIME—BUT THAT'S LONG AGO

Consumer Gets Benefit, but—Hogs Down Again—

Once upon a time, it seems like a long time ago! Well anyway, there was once a time when the wholesale market price for hogs was a noticeable decline in the retail price within a course of time, but—that was once upon a time.

Today hogs took another slump in price, dropping at the local stock yards from $6.40 on the hundred pound yesterday to $3.10. That looks like thirty cents, but not to the ultimate consumer.

Rudnor Diphtheria Situation.
Five cases of diphtheria exist in Rudnor, with nearly one-fourth of the school children immunized. School is in session and will not close unless the situation should take an unexpected turn. The day health commissioner requests that [Schweinfurth's brother, Mr. Samuel] all persons be immunized to prevent the spread of the disease.—Delaware Gazette.

SAMUEL HECKER GIVEN A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE
Pleasant Event at the H. W. Schweinfurth Home.

A surprise was given at the home of Mrs. H. W. Schweinfurth, Thursday evening, in honor of Mr. Samuel Hecker, of New York, who is here visiting relatives. The time was passed with games, music and speeches. The brothers and sisters of Mr. Hecker each presented him a gold piece.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Allmendinger and children, Margaret and Irving; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Allmendinger and daughter, Martha; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hecker and children, Wilbert, Oliver, Howard and Mildred; Mrs. Herman Schweinfurth, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hecker and son, Herschell.

EARLY MORNING BLAZE EXCITES GREEN CAMP

Poolroom and Barber Shop in Ross Building Destroyed.

MARION FIREMEN CALLED:
LOSS PLACED AT $6,000

Boy Crawls to Roof of Calahoose and Rings Bell—No
Hose to River.

Green Camp, O., April 22.—(Special.)—Audrey Gibson, a lad of about nine years, played the role of a hero when fire broke out in the two-story frame business room of G. J. Ross, in the heart of the village, shortly before 4 o'clock this morning. The building was completely destroyed together with its contents.

The fire was first discovered by L. DeLong, who is ill at his home across the street. He went to the door and gave a call of fire and the boy, who lives close by, heard him. The lad ran to the calahoose and, crawling up on the roof, reached the cupola, where he rang the bell and soon had the entire population out.

A bucket brigade was formed and a call was sent for the Marion firemen. Chief McFarland and a couple men from department No. 2 made the trip to the village in about ten minutes in the chief's car and the engine of department No. 3 arrived in a few minutes later.

The building was practically destroyed when the department reached the scene and, as there was not sufficient hose to reach the river, the firemen assisted in the bucket brigade to keep the fire from spreading.

The building was constructed several years ago by A. Somerlot and the loss on the building will reach over $6,000 with some insurance.

The lower floor was vacant while on the second floor a pool parlor was conducted by Mr. Ross and Charles Hosack conducted a two-chair barber shop. There was no insurance on the contents. Some glass windows of the telephone building across the street were broken and the paint on the bank building was blistered.

E. G. HARTLE, GALION, INDICTED AT LORAIN

He is Taken to Elyria—Marion County Angle.

Sheriff N. D. Backus, of Lorain county, arrived in Galion, in an automobile, accompanied by two deputies, leaving later on with E. G. Hartle against whom the grand jury of Lorain county returned a secret indictment, charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Hartle was taken to Elyria by the officers to answer to the charge, says Thursday's Galion Inquirer.

The allegations on which the indictment is based is that on August 5, 1919, Hartle obtained from the Oberlin Banking company a loan of $4,000 by representing that he owned 225 acres of land in Hardin county, eighty acres in Marion county and eighty acres in Crawford county, together with a quantity of livestock. He is charged with obtaining money under false pretenses by asserting that his total possessions were valued at $59,600, with an indebtedness of $9,000, while, according to the allegation he was the owner of but 122 acres and had but a half interest in the livestock.

Mr. Hartle came to this city about fifteen years ago to take over the Members of Congress Are Informed of Deal.

Washington, April 22.—The war department has sold to Thomas Roberts & Company, of Philadelphia, for $5,316,000, the army stock of war-surplus canned meats, members of congress were informed, today. There were about $1,000,000 pounds of meats of various kinds involved. The sales price indicates this meat was disposed of at about 6 1/2 cents a pound. The cost averaged thirty-four cents a pound and the average market price now is about twenty-four cents a pound.

Uncle's Buried Treasure.

Salem, Va., April 22.—Henry Dameron, who works on his uncle's mountaintop farm near here, often dreamed, he said, of finding a treasure and buying a farm of his own. Recently while plowing near the foot of Brush's mountain his plow unearthed a peculiar looking object. Investigation revealed it to be a small metal pot wrapped in buckskin, containing gold and silver coins valued at $24,302. The latest date on any of the coins was 1523.

SAMUEL BELL, A FORMER COUNTY SURVEYOR, DEAD

Succumbs at His Home at Joplin, Missouri.

SERVES BOTH AS COUNTY AND CITY SURVEYOR

Son of Late Jonathan Bell, of Bowling Green Township.

News was received here today of the death of Samuel Bell, aged sixty-three, former Marion county surveyor and city engineer of Marion. He died Wednesday evening at Joplin, Missouri, where he had lived about sixteen years. The cause of his death was not given in message received by friends.

Mr. Bell was elected surveyor in 1881 and served two terms. He also served two or three terms as city engineer. He was a Democrat.

Mr. Bell's wife, formerly Mrs. Nellie Cameron, a daughter of the late Dr. Cameron, of Union county, died two years ago.

Surviving are an adopted daughter, Mrs. Paul Gabriel, of Richmond, who was called to Joplin last Monday, and a brother, Cass Bell, of Joplin.

ceived with evident gratification. It is understood that steps were taken to ascertain the views of the foreign representatives before the reply was dispatched.

Refuses Request.

Washington, April 22.—The American government refused an urgent request of the German government that President Harding mediate the question of reparations between Germany and the allies and fix the sum Germany is to pay.

The United States agreed, however, that if the German government would formulate promptly such proposals regarding reparations "as would present a proper basis for discussion," it would "consider bringing the matter to the allied governments in a manner acceptable to them in order that negotiations speedily may be resumed."

Germany's appeal, signed by Chancellor Fehrenbach and Foreign Minister Simons, was directed to President Harding and was transmitted through American Commissioner Dresel at Berlin. It was answered by Secretary Hughes after a conference with the president at the White House.

The texts of both the appeal and the reply were made public by the state department. The communication from Berlin said the German government was "ready and willing" to agree "without qualification or reservation" to pay such sum as the president, after examination and investigation, might "find just right," and "to fulfill in letter and spirit all the provisions of any award that may be made by him."

In reply, Secretary Hughes said: "This government could not agree to mediate the question of reparations with a view to acting as umpire in its settlement. Impressed, however, with the seriousness of the issues involved as they affect the whole world the government of the United States feels itself to be deeply concerned with the question of obtaining an early and just solution."

"This government strongly desires that there should be an immediate resumption of negotiations and reiterates its earnest hope that the German government will promptly formulate such proposals as would present a proper basis for discussion. Should the German government take this course, this government will consider bringing the matter to the attention of the allied governments in a manner acceptable to them in order that negotiations may speedily be resumed."

PUT ON DEFENSIVEGreat Battle for Supremacy.
Economist Submits Brief to Federal Board.

April 20. — Organized labor is on a strike to crush or to crush the power of the capitalists and has deliberately set out a policy of unemployment, and distress to accomplish its purpose. W. Jett Lauck, economist of the railway employees, in a report presented to the Federal board, yesterday.

Lauck, yesterday, when he presented his exhibit, entitled "The Standard and Railway Employees' Strike," charged that the group of bankers and industrialists control the entire industry and closely allied interests and that they are in a conspiracy to crush labor. farmers and then undertook, by precipitating industrial stagnation, to 'defeat' labor.

Has the Power.

"This evidence shows that within one and the same identical capitalist group lies the power to adjust or misadjust relative prices in a manner that will stimulate or suppress industrial activity."

The railway employees make no issue, the statement says, of the propriety or possible necessity of a centralized system of economic coordination, but they "challenge the unconscionable misuse which this great coordination has made of its power."

"The great national paradox of the banking-railway-industrial combine and its profits is thrown into bold relief," the statement continues. "The railroads are pleading poverty. The banks are making unprecedented profits and declaring unprecedented dividends. The same applies to steel, coal, railway equipment and similarly situated concerns."

"The capital combine, in preparing to precipitate unemployment, adopted a policy that the railroads should 'do it first.' Railway improvement programs were deferred; railway maintenance and reduced below minimum legal requirements; a kick was put in the purchasing power of the American people and the industry was sent head-on into stagnation."

"The welfare of 4,000,000 workers and their families, totaling another 12,000,000 or 15,000,000—nearly one-fifth of our population—is at the mercy of those whose misguided financial policy can plunge them into unemployment."

Probe Is Begun.

Washington, April 22.—Active investigation into the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, millionaire slacker, was begun yesterday, by the special congressional committee appointed by the house. Under the terms of the resolution ordering the investigation, the committee may call in any one it thinks will shed light on the circumstances of the escape.

Women Magistrates

JEAN J. NORRIS.

The theory that the legal mind is necessarily masculine in gender has been exploded in the last few years by a number of women lawyers who have made good in their chosen profession, some being elected judges of various courts. In New York City the trying task of weighing justice to the many women who are brought before her rests on the shoulders of Magistrate Jean Norris, of the women's court. Mrs. Norris is the first woman ever selected to sit on the judges' bench in a criminal or civil court in New York state. She is a widow and has been practicing law for more than fourteen years.

A PERMANENT ASSIGNMENTPershing To Command A New
Headquarters Staff.KEEP MILITARY FORCE
PREPARED FOR ACTIONSecretary of War Weeks Makes Statement Regarding Military Affairs.

Washington, April 22.—General Pershing's permanent duty will be the command of a "skeleton headquarters staff," to be organized by the war department, Secretary Weeks announced yesterday.

The purpose of the skeletonized headquarters is to prepare in time of peace for war, the secretary said. This headquarters will be ready in time of peace to act in time of war and will see that the military forces of the United States are prepared for action at all times, the secretary said.

The secretary pointed out that Marshal Joffre had been in command of such a headquarters before the outbreak of the war and that when war came, France was ready for action.

There is some difficulty in arranging the details for the skeleton headquarters, the secretary said, because of the present law. The chief of staff will remain in charge of administration of the army during peace time, however.

States His Position.

Washington, April 22.—Secretary of War Weeks, yesterday, appeared before the house sub-committee considering the army appropriation bill and related his position in favor of an army of 135,000 men. An appropriation for an army of this size, he said, would support the nine army corps proper and provide for replacements for discharges, thus maintaining the forces as already planned.

Secretary Weeks is scheduled to appear before the house military affairs committee, tomorrow.

Of Industrial Chiefs and Heads of Labor Unions.

Washington, April 22.—A proposal that the recognized heads of the banking, railroad, coal, mining and other industries and the heads of the labor unions of the country be called into a great general conference to discuss economic conditions, was made by President Harding, yesterday, by a delegation of representatives of various farm organizations. They called at the White House, headed by Senator Capper, Kansas, and Charles S. Barrett Georgia, president of the National Farmers' union.

President Harding listened attentively to the proposition and said he would take it under consideration.

Suction

Press an ordinary glass bowl into a tub of soapy water. Notice how the air pressure forces the water underneath the bowl toward the bottom of the tub. By raising the bowl the suction underneath is so powerful that the water is raised above the surface. The "EASY" VACUUM ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINE works on this same principle of air pressure and suction, gently, but surely, forcing the hot, soapy water through the meshes of the garments, removing every particle of dirt.

There is no rubbing, no dragging or tearing. The finest woollens, blaukets, lingerie, and even baby things are washed spotlessly clean.

The "EASY" is rust-proof, being made from solid copper, brass, aluminum and enameled steel.

The big, polished copper tank is easy to keep clean. It has a larger capacity than any other electric washing machine. Easy to load and unload. Wringer starts, stops and reverses without interfering with the washing. Gas heater heats water to any desired temperature. Won't you let the "EASY" do your next washing and prove that it will do all we say?

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE PUSSY WILLOWS.

(BY HOWARD H. GARIS.)
(Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Will you do me a favor when you are on adventuring today?"
asked Nurse Jane Pussy Wuzzy of Uncle Wiggily, as he put on his tall, slit hat one morning.

"Of course I will," he answered.
"Do you want a new gold and diamond diamond from the fire and ten cent store, or shall I bring home some salt to put in the ice cream?"

"Neither one!" I pushed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I want some flowers or ferns to put in a vase on the parlor mantel. I am going to have Mrs. Wibblewobble, the duck lady, over to help me sew this afternoon, and I'd like the bungalow to look pretty."

"I'll bring you some ornaments from the woods," promised the bunny rabbit gentleman as he hopped off, his pink nose twinkling like the raisins in a strawberry longcake.

Uncle Wiggily hopped alone and along over the fields and through the woods, looking for an adventure and, at the same time, for flowers to bring Nurse Jane.

But as it was only April as yet,
and as not many May flowers had blossomed, Uncle Wiggily did not have very good luck. At last, however, he came to a place where some bush and tree branches seemed to be covered with silvery buds, that glistened in the sunshine.

"Oh, ho!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "Pussy willows! These will be just what Nurse Jane wants for her parlor mantel vase. They will ornament the room most beautifully!"

He hopped over and began to pick the long pussywillow branches. The pussies did not mind it in the least, for, though, they were alive, in a way, as all things that grow are alive, still it did not hurt them to be broken off.

"We're kind we're going with you, Uncle Wiggily," the pussy willows

"Here! Take all these pussy ears," said the bunny.

said, for they could talk the language of flowers, of course.

"And I am glad to take you," said
the bunny rabbit gentleman.

As the sun was setting warmer, and Uncle Wiggily did not want the pussy willows to wither, he wrapped the bunch he had picked in some broad green leaves, making a nice bundle of them. Then, with this bundle of pussy willows under his paw, the bunny gentleman began to hop back toward his hollow stump bungalow.

"I'm afraid I am not going to have an adventure," he said.
But this only goes to show that you never know what is going to happen. For Uncle Wiggily had not one much farther before, all of a sudden, he heard a loud barking behind some bushes.

"That can not be Jackie or Peete!
How Wow, the puppy dog boys," thought the bunny gentleman. "They never bark as loudly as that. I hope it is Old Dog Perelval. He and I are good friends."

But, a moment later, there burst through the underbrush a big, savage dog, not at all like good, kind Per-elval.

"How wow!" barked this savage animal. "Now I have you!"
"But what in the world do you want of me?" asked poor Uncle Wig-gily.

"Your ears!" howled the dog.
"The Fox and Wolf told me how many times they had tried to nibble your ears and couldn't. But I'm going to!"

"Oh, please don't!" begged the bunny. "I don't like my ears nibbled."

"It makes no manner of difference to me what you want!" snarled the unpleasant dog. "Earn to nibble I Stand still now!"

Uncle Wiggily had to think quickly.
He must find some way to get away from the bad dog.

"Hold on a moment, my barking chaps," spoke the bunny. "How would you like to nibble some pussy ears first?"

"Pussy ears?" grumbled the dog.
"Hum! now that you speak of it, I think they would be more tender than yours. I will nibble some pussy pussies were only plants, that had no ears, and then I'll try yours. Where are any pussy ears to be found?"

Uncle Wiggily knew he could fool that dog now. The bunny rabbit took from under his paw the bundle of pussy willow branches. Opening a little way the green leaves in which they were wrapped, the bunny showed the tip end of one fuzzy pussy blissom to the dog.

"Oh, how soft and tender!" barked
the dog. "I shall just love to nibble that! How many pussies have you there?"

"Oh, hundreds of them!" answered Mr. Longears, for he did have that many pussy willows. Only he was careful not to let the dog know the pussies were only plants, that had no
feeling.

"Here! Take all these pussy ears," said the bunny, thrusting into the dog's paws the bundle. "I'll go get some more." And before the dog could stop him, or grab him, on account of his paws holding the pussy willows, Uncle Wiggily ran away.

And, oh, how hopping mad, like hops, that dog was when he found only some pussy willow twigs in the bundle Mr. Longears had left him.

The dog raced after Uncle Wiggily, but could not catch him, and the bunny got more pussy willows for Nurse
Jane and reached his bungalow.
Once again he was saved.

Tells How She Regained Her

Rebecca Hammond, wife of Asa Hammond, a well-known farmer of believer in the merits of Redex. She says: "I have been in a miserable condition from stomach trouble for over two years. I would invariably have severe attacks of indigestion after eating and gas would form on my stomach, causing me a great deal of pain and distress.

"I have also had liver trouble and pains across my back and a very sallow complexion; I have been very weak and nervous and altogether in very poor shape. I had no desire for food as nothing agreed with me.
I tried about everything in the way of medicine, but not no relief whatever.

"I have taken two bottles of Redex and it has made a wonderful change in me. My stomach trouble has not bothered me at all and my backaches have all gone. I have a good appetite and am now eating anything I choose without any gas on my stomach or indigestion I am stronger and better than I have been for the past

And the Lost Bag of Tripe went in and was handing him out of the window to me when my mother came in the room and screamed at him.

Jar and me and Jubilee ran all the ways to the hole in the ground and got some more frog eggs, and then when we was running back Jubilee was ahead of me and I noticed that he ran kinda sideways so that he would not stop on his front heels with the toes of his hind feet, and I thought that was sick of him to run sideways without going crooked, and I went to try it and my feet got mixed and I fell on the jar and spilled the frog eggs and broke the top half of the jar off, but I did not cut myself.

So then I had to run back and get some more frog eggs, and then I had to go slow so as not to spill them because that is all there is there; so by the time I got to school the bell was ringing and I took them up to Jonesy and she looked at them and said: "Go put them on the windowsill. Is that the best jar you could get?"
I bet if I had long pants she would have thanked me and said I was very kind and everything. There ought to be a law against short pants.

When school had let out we all went around to the Lost Bag of Tripe's to see if we could get his baby brother out so we could start to tuffen him so we can make a prize fighter out of him, and he was laying on the bed in the front room and the Lost Bag of Tripe went in and was handing him out of the window to me when his mother came in the room and screamed at him, so then we all skun out. Some people do not know when anyone is doing them a favor. Me and Jubilee went to bed early.

AWEFUL FOREST FIRE LOSS.

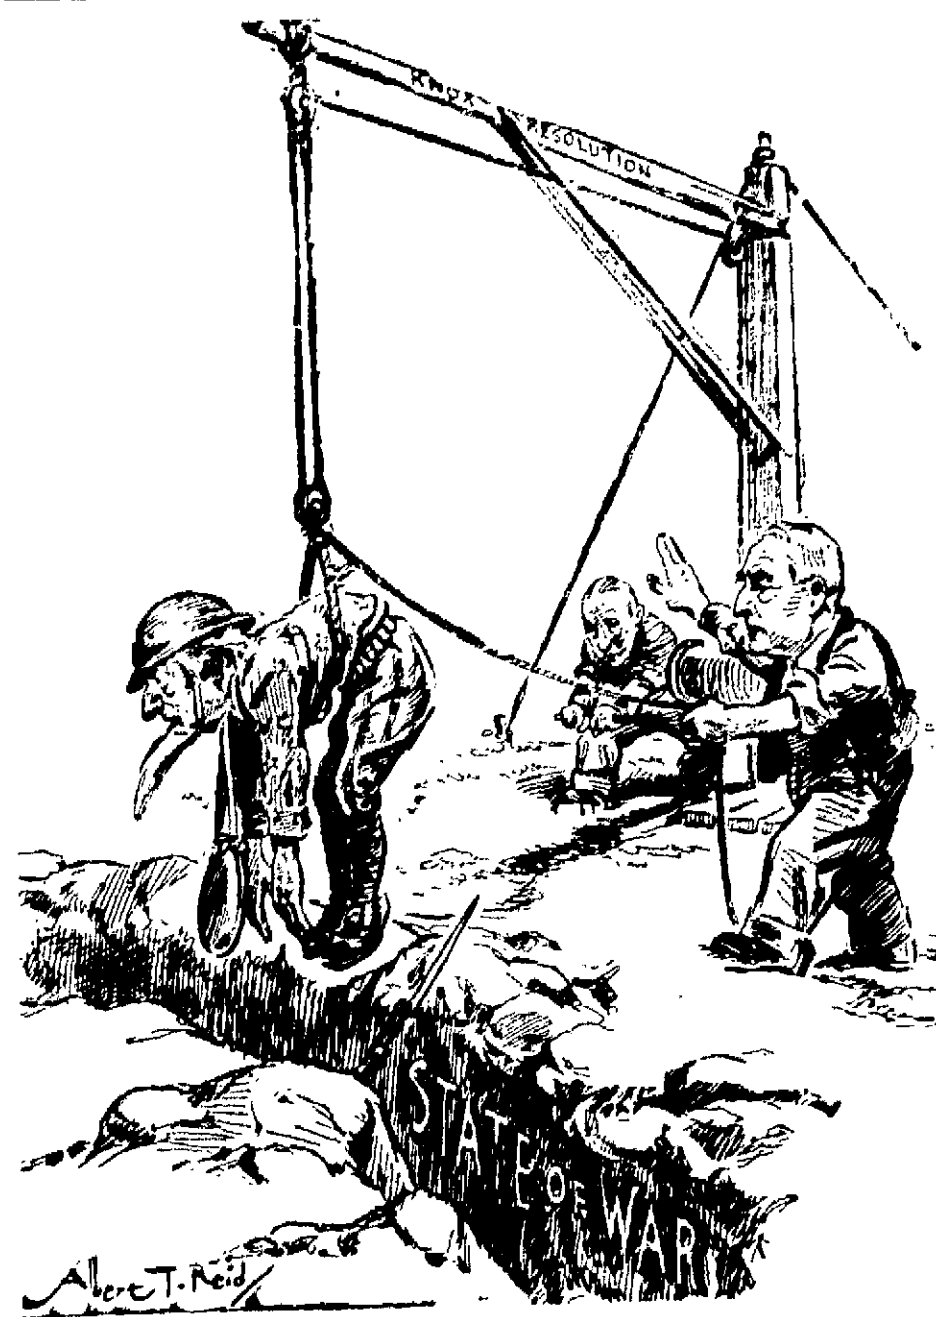

The United States forest service has compiled some statistics of the damage done by forest fires that illustrates vividly the enormous losses. In the five years, 1916 to 1920 inclusive, an area was burned over exceeding the combined territory of Delaware, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, New Jersey, Maryland and West Virginia. This is an astonishing statement, but we assume that the authors of it are able to demonstrate its truth.

It requires no vivid imagination to comprehend that if we are burning our forests at that rate, it will not be long until we have none. The total number of forest fires exceed 30,000 a year. From this it may be discerned that an average fire would not need to be very extensive for the total loss to reach a staggering figure.

The causes of fires are many and most of them are preventable. Carelessness is responsible for no small part of them and in California fourteen per cent. of them are charged to incendiarism. A forest may possess great value, yet the owner must carry the risk himself. He can get no insurance against fire and at the same time it stands open to any one who cares to enter and start a blaze that may consume it. The loss of a burned-over area does not fall on the owner alone. Indirectly the public bears the loss, since the supply of timber is diminished by just as much as is burned. Thus it is to the interest of the public-at-large to take steps to prevent forest fires as well as for those who hold title to the timber. We can not get lumber with which to build houses if there is no timber from which to draw.

However, there is hope that conditions that have prevailed in the past are not to be tolerated in the future. Many states have taken steps to eliminate the causes of fires, but safety is gained only at the price of eternal vigilance. We are now far beyond the danger line in forest depletion. It is well that the call for a halt is so forcibly expressed in the figures of the destruction wrought annually.

GETTING THE LAST BOY OUT OF THE TRENCHES

IT'S HUMAN NATURE, AFTER ALL.

"Holdin' on to what you got and not lettin' go of anything until you have to," said Bill Nye. "Is the secret of stayin' rich, even if your daddy didn't leave you anything but a fortune."

If Nye had lived in this day and generation he would have recognized in his prescription for the preservation of inherited wealth a common tendency involving everybody, rich and poor, from the highest to the humblest. "Holdin' on to what you got," has been so universally adopted that instead of a praiseworthy economy, it has become little less than an evil.

For example, last year the manufacturer facing a return to normal in the buying habits of people, declined to admit there could be an end to the silk shirt era and the high prices that went with it. He just couldn't come down in price, and furthermore he wouldn't, and that was all there was to it. But wholesale prices came down, just the same. He didn't want it, naturally, but he had to let go of some of the things the war brought him.

And then the retailer, suffering the effects of a buyers' strike, declined to take the losses necessary to bring about activity in trade. Neither did he want to let go of any of the advantages in profits the war period had given him, and you can't blame him for that. He was merely "holdin' on" to what he had got. But he had to let go, and in many cases his losses were far larger than was good for business.

Now the readjustment is down to the wage-earner, and neither does he want to give up his way. He, too, is merely trying to "hold on" to what he has got, and he is doing no more than the manufacturer and the merchant did a year ago. In the end, the readjustment must come, just as it did for them. But "holdin' on" to what you got," regardless of all that, is just a natural human tendency and the necessities of the moment from the standpoint of public welfare do not rob the "lettin' go" process of any of its agonies for the individual who must undergo the painful operation.

But think of what might happen to Lloyd George should we wake up some morning and not find a single, solitary crisis on his hands!

Some of the baseball players pulled down a roll on that national championship series, all right, but hardly a big enough one to compensate them for the salaries they no longer draw.

A mistake of the past should never be permitted to become a bar to future development, and this applies alike to individuals, communities, states and nations.

It may be noted that a lot has been made of the fact that Samuel Gompers stopped at a non-union hotel in Buffalo. It isn't fair. Nothing should be held up against a man on his wedding trip.

The absence of paragraphs from the columns of the Ohio State Journal for several days puts us up a stump as to whether its paragoner is sick, in which case he has our sincere sympathy, or is simply visiting his wife's relations again, in which latter case, naturally our sympathy goes to them.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

(By James Earl Taylor)

SAY IT WITH FLOWERS.

"They speak of hope to the fainting heart, With a voice of promise they come and part; They sleep in dust through the wintry hours, They break forth in glory. Bring flowers—bright flowers!"

Say it with flowers! "Old Joe Wordie" lives over in Washington City.

The other day he made his first call on President Harding.

There are many callers at the White House these days, of course.

But even the casual observer would note that Old Joe is different from the ordinary run of pilgrims to the shrine of executive power.

On the day of his call upon the new president, Old Joe wore a closely-buttoned great coat and a stovepipe hat of ancient vintage; and he carried a bulging umbrella under his arm.

Too, as he came out of the White House door, he held a big bunch of beautiful flowers in one hand and carried a strapped cardboard box in the other.

Where did the old man get the flowers?

What was he going to do with them?

He had got them from the White House conservatories; and he was bearing them to the poor and sick children in the hospitals and slums of the capital.

Say it with flowers!

Joe Wordie is now eighty-seven years old.

He has lived long in Washington City, and has seen many national administrations—has observed quite a number of presidents come and go.

And all through the years he has made it his chief mission in life to carry flowers to sick children—poor children.

Say it with flowers!

And Old Joe Wordie has said it—said it tenderly—said it repeatedly.

Through the administrations of Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Cleveland, Harrison, McKinley, Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson—this kind-hearted old fellow has been true to his self-imposed task; and, at the ripe age of four-score-and-seven—he is still true to it.

One editor remarks that Old Joe has been:

"A living link of benevolence and a radiating messenger of gracious human sentiment from the nation's heart in the home of the executive, to the afflicted children of the people. For, of course, it is something more than fugitive blossoms that Joe Wordie collects and distributes. The flowers are God's poems, the scented and tinted reminders of love eternal; condensations of nature's beauty and charm."

Say it with flowers!

For— "Flowers are love's truest language; they betray, Like the divining-rods of Magi old, Where precious wealth lies buried, not of gold, But love—strong love, that never can decay."

Say it with flowers!

THE BROADER PLAN.

Says a persistent advocate of the league of nations: "Events since the war have proven that no nation can live to itself alone." It required, no events since the war to prove a proposition so potent to every observer of affairs. No nation has undertaken to live to itself alone since the days when Japan permitted American ships to enter her ports. But because a nation can not and does not desire to live to itself alone, it does not follow that this nation must subscribe to a universal international contract that may be drawn up for it.

The United States will cut a larger figure than ever before in world affairs, and will not assume the smaller position desired by the nations that would dominate the league as it was framed at Versailles.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE XIII.—RHODE ISLAND

RHODE ISLAND is not really the name of this state. As can be seen from the state seal, the official name is the "State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations." It originated from two distinct settlements. The first was made by Roger Williams in 1636. He was the pastor of a church in Salem. As he advocated radical reforms he was ordered to return to England, but fled to the Narragansett tribe of Indians. From them he obtained a tract of land and called the town which he established Providence, in token of God's mercy which had so far provided for him.

About the same time Mrs. Anne Hutchinson and her followers were expelled from Massachusetts on account of a theological dispute. She made her way to the island of Aquidneck, which she purchased from the Indians for 40 fathoms of white wampum, 20 bees and 10 cows.

The name of this island was changed to the Isle of Rhodes, probably after the famous Greek island in the Mediterranean. By common usage it became known as Rhode Island. In 1662 Charles II gave Rhode Island a very liberal charter, and this remained in force until 1841, when a new state constitution was adopted by mass conventions, and two years later another new constitution was legally voted. The change in constitutions caused what was known as Dorr's rebellion.

The entrance of Rhode Island into the Union in 1790 completed the list of the original thirteen states. Though Rhode Island is the smallest of all the states, with only 1,245 square miles, it is very thickly populated and has five presidential electors, which is more than those of a number of states of much larger territory.

SEVERAL BANDITS IN SAMUEL HELD MURDER

Mrs. J. W. Egan's Nephew is Buried in Columbus.

Giving conflicting stories as to their movements when Samuel Held, well-known Columbus saloonist, was killed and robbed in his cafe at Livingston avenue and the Norfolk & Western tracks, Tuesday night, Frank Myers, alias Turner Myers, twenty-four, and Frank Knapp, twenty-five, are being held by the Columbus police today as suspects.

Myers, it is claimed, was recently released from the Coshocton jail, where he was imprisoned because of a jail delivery. Knapp, according to the police, served a sentence in the penitentiary for robbery.

Belief that more than one bandit participated in the robbery and murder of Samuel Held Tuesday night in his saloon in east Livingston avenue was strengthened yesterday after the post-mortem examination held by Coroner Murphy.

Evidence of the firing of five shots during the battle was found yesterday. Two bullets penetrated Held's head and the other three were imbedded in the shelves behind the bar, says this morning's Ohio State Journal in speaking of the murder of a nephew of Mrs. J. W. Egan, of Olney avenue, Marion. Two full cartridges and three empty shells were found in front of the bar. Sheriff Holycross expressed the opinion that one of three bandits, in his hurry to get out of the building, broke his gun and dropped empty and loaded cartridges alike in order to more quickly reload.

With both the sheriff's office and the city police working on the case no clue as to the identity of the perpetrators of the crime has yet been discovered.

Funeral services for Held, the tenth murder victim of the year within the county, will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow at the home, Livingston avenue, and the Norfolk & Western tracks. Burial, by Myers & Owens, will be in Greenlawn cemetery.

LIVES NEARLY EIGHTY YEARS AT RICHWOOD

Mrs. Lavina Murphy Celebrates Her Birthday.

Mrs. Lavina Murphy passed her eighty-fourth birthday anniversary quietly at her home on west Ottawa street last Saturday. Mrs. Murphy has spent eighty years of her life in Union county and smilingly told her friends she had seen the methods of traveling change from the two-wheeled cart and ox team to the present day airplane. Much of her life has been spent in Richwood where she is well and favorably known. Within the last two years Mrs. Murphy suffered the amputation of her right leg, but otherwise she is well and of a cheerful disposition. She has one son, Oscar Murphy, who lives in Columbus. Her father, Andrew L. Spicer, moved from Muskingum county in a two-horse wagon and arrived here with his wife, four children and four cents in money. Mrs. Murphy remembers when there were but three stores located here.—Richwood Gazette.

BASEBALL

The Honor System.
Cleveland, April 22.—"Rah for the honor system!" "Sunny" Jim Dunn, owner of the world's champions, decided that this year no park attendant would ask a fan to return a ball batted into the stands or crowd, but would rely upon the honor system to get 'em back. Yesterday, the plan had its first trial. It worked fine. Although at least a score of balls went into the stands, not a single ball was returned.

Tagging the Bases.

Harry Hooper's hitting enabled the White Sox to trim Detroit in the opener at Chicago. Hooper made three hits, two of which were doubles.

Sam Jones was the big noise in the American league opening at Boston, where the Red Sox blanked Washington, one to nothing. Jones gave up only two hits.

Ted Spesker was presented with a saddle by Hubbard, Texas, friends at the opening game in Cleveland. He immediately proceeded to ride the Indians to a victory over St. Louis, with the help of Jim Bagby.

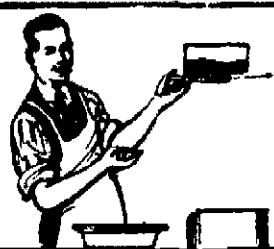

Chief Yellow Horse, Pirate recruit pitcher, held the Reds safe in the waning innings at the Pittsburgh opener and enabled the Pirates to win a close game. Baus Adams started the game in the box.

Babe Ruth's home run and Mays' fine pitching featured the victory of the Yanks over Philadelphia.

Bernie Nels was the hero of the Dodgers' victory over Boston. His double in the eighth gave the Robins the pastime.
